Fastest growing job search engine launched in Canada: Canada.linkup.com

Calgary, AB – LinkUp, the fastest growing job search engine in the U.S., announced the launch of a similar job search engine for Canada. The site, found at Canada.linkup.com, includes job listings throughout Canada that are only found on company and employer websites. As a result of this entirely unique approach to job listings, jobs on LinkUp.com and Canada.linkup.com are always current, often unadvertised anywhere else, and contain no fake jobs or scam listings.

“We’ve seen phenomenal growth in the U.S. by delivering the highest quality job search engine on the web, and expanding our coverage to include Canada is a logical next step for our business,” commented President & CEO Toby Dayton. “We’re excited to be able to offer job seekers and employers everywhere a vastly better alternative to the outdated resources currently available on the web today.”

Both LinkUp and Canada.linkup.com allow users to easily and conveniently search job listings from thousands of corporate websites by job title, keyword(s), company name, industry, and location. Because the site does not allow anyone to post jobs directly onto the site, there are no old jobs, work-at-home scams, identity theft postings, or listings from recruiters, staffing companies, search firms, or headhunters. LinkUp only indexes jobs from company websites.

Job seekers and employers can get to Canda.linkup.com by clicking the ‘International Sites’ link at the bottom of linkup.com or by directly going to Canada.linkup.com.

About LinkUp

LinkUp is owned and operated by JobDig, an employment-focused media, technology, and advertising company that has been serving employers and job seekers since 2001.
